

East And West In Tug-of-War Over Germany

Russia Creates New Red Berlin State

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia shows signs of being about to create a new, Communist-dominated German state out of her eastern zone of occupation, with Berlin as its capital.

This will be calculated to offset the German republic recently established at Bonn by the three western zones under guidance of America, Britain and France.

When these two Germanys are functioning there will ensue a tug-of-war between Russia and the three Democracies to achieve a United Germany—Communist if the Soviet wins and Democratic if the western trio are successful. The future history of continental Europe will be heavily influenced by the outcome of this struggle, for ultimately Germany may well resume her old position as the keystone of central Europe.

That is, she will resume it if she is reunited. And on that score there can be small doubt unless events take a wholly unforeseen turn. It isn't the nature of the Germans to be separated. By hook or by crook the two divisions will unite in reestablish the Fatherland as soon as they see an opening.

Bonn Zone Largest

Naturally Moscow's hope is to draw western Germany into the Soviet eastern zone, thereby consolidating the Reich into a Communist state which would be a satellite of Russia. By the same token the three western Allies are aiming to attract eastern Ger-

Explorer Held For 2 Killings

Drinking Bout Fatal In Canton, China

Canton, Oct. 5 (AP)—Explorer Leonard Clark was arrested today on charges of slaying Englishman Harold Harris and American William Freeman in a wedding anniversary shooting at the Freeman home on Sept. 8.

The 42-year-old San Francisco explorer, who claimed to have located the world's highest peak in the Amne Machin mountains of western China, was removed from a Canton hospital to a detention house.

He was shot near the heart in the affray, which culminated in a drinking bout at the Freeman home.

Harris, Shanghai born Englishman and an employee of Freeman, was dead when the three men were found in a bedroom of the Freeman home.

Freeman, 41, formerly of Bridgeport, Mass., was shot twice. He died in Canton's smelly, dilapidated emergency hospital several days later.

At the hospital, both Clark and Freeman asked to see Freeman's comely Polish-born wife, Maya.

Chinese police forbade her to visit Clark but permitted her to stay at the bedside of her husband until his death.

Since Freeman's death Clark had been recovering from his wound.

Police said his gun was used in the shooting.

Freeman and Clark agreed that a free for all fight preceded the shooting.

Later Clark was quoted by police as saying Freeman "pulled a jealousy act" at the conclusion of the drinking bout, which was the preliminary to the fourth wedding anniversary of the Freemans and the birthday of blond Mrs. Freeman.

Steel Users Ration Products; No Break Yet In Big Walkout

Pittsburgh, Oct. 5 (AP)—The government is considering clamping down on the export of steel in the face of dwindling inventories which threaten idleness to hundreds of thousands in American industries.

Many companies are taking precautionary steps of their own as the nationwide steel strike goes into its fifth day.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation put a rationing system into effect today on many appliances.

There's no sign of peace in the steel strike.

And the picture remains almost as dark in the coal walkout.

The double-barrelled attack on America's economy has added 513,000 steelworkers and 382,000 United Mine Workers.

The issues are about the same. The workers want a better pension and welfare program.

Let's take a look at the picture in steel.

Philip Murray, president of the steelworkers, is standing pat on his demand that industry pay all the costs of a pension and welfare program. Industry is standing pat, too. It will pay up to 10 cents an hour—but insists workers chip in a few cents an hour, too.

There are no negotiating sessions in sight. The government is keeping hands off for the present.

That doesn't mean the government isn't concerned. Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer says he's considering imposing export controls on steel. That would keep more steel in America, prolonging employment in many industries in case the strike isn't ended soon.

Almost as Sawyer was talking, Westinghouse placed a number of home appliances on an allocation basis to distributors and dealers.

These include large model refrigerators, electric ranges, washing machines, clothes driers, vacuum cleaners, water heaters and fans.

There's not a great deal of worrying over the lack of coal, although the UMW walkout of soft coal miners is now in its 17th day.

There's still enough coal above ground to keep most of the industry humming at least another month.

The miners quit work after benefits from their pension.

Talks Resumed In Coal Strike

Settlement Hinges On Steel Tieup

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—The government called John L. Lewis and soft coal operators to a meeting Friday in an effort to end the three-week mine shutdown.

Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Federal Mediation Service, said the coal situation has "reached the place where it is approaching a crisis," that requires the intervention of his office.

The operators are meeting with Lewis and his United Mine Workers negotiators at Bluefield and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., but Ching said a mere report of progress in those talks would not suffice to call off his Friday meeting here.

There were reports that the operators may have offered to renew most of the old contract and throw in besides an increase in the present 20-cent-per-ton royalty operators pay into the UMW welfare and pension fund.

The union has not made concrete demands. However, Lewis has indicated he wants an increase in the royalty figure and a seven hour work day at the same pay miners now get for eight hours.

Northern and Western operators have offered to place the old contract back in force until March 31, 1951. Lewis has turned them down cold.

Saginaw Boy, 11, Hung Up On Limb While Watching Ball Game

Saginaw, Oct. 5 (AP)—An 11-year-old boy who hung impaled on a tree branch for half an hour returned home today after a night in the hospital.

The youth, Trefton Abbot, was watching a football game from a tree when he slipped yesterday. A splintered branch pierced the upper part of his arm. He hung 10 feet above the ground while rescue attempts were made.

Finally, the limb was sawed off. It was removed from the boy's arm at the hospital.

Doctors said his condition was good.

Arms Merger Outlined For 12 Countries

Billion-Dollar U. S. Aid Starts Shortly

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Defense chiefs of the United States and 11 other western nations start active work today on plans to pool their military might against any aggressive attack.

They make up an defense committee provided for in the new North Atlantic Pact U. S. military headquarters in the Pentagon was the scene for the opening meeting (2:30 p. m. EST).

The main tasks of the group in the two-day session are to set up eight or more organizations which will do the real military spade-work, and to clear the way for the billion-dollar flow of American Arms Aid just approved by Congress.

Urgency Apparent

President Truman's Sept. 23 announcement of the Soviet atomic explosion gave a sombre urgency to the meeting, but did not advance it. Arrangements have been in process for weeks.

Britain's A. V. Alexander and Paul Ramadier of France were among the defense ministers on hand.

Crop Loss Heavy In Gulf Hurricane

Houston, Tex., Oct. 5 (AP)—A howling gulf hurricane that hit Texas crops a hard blow was just a hoarse wail today.

It pushed feebly through Marshall, Tex., Shreveport, La., and into southwest Arkansas last night, carrying heavy rains.

The hurricane's punch at this big metropolis was surprisingly light, and even the smaller cities and towns in its path rode the blow with ease. Rice, cotton and vegetable crops were hardest hit.

Thousands found refuge in public shelters as the storm struck first Monday night between Matamoros and Brownsville. About 1:30 a. m. (CST) yesterday it hit here and moved inland.

Winds of 80, 90 and up to 100 miles an hour were recorded as the hurricane came in from the Gulf of Mexico.

There was just one known casualty. One person was missing. Mrs. Alpha Herbert, elderly Port Neches woman, slipped in the mud yesterday and grabbed an electric wire blown down by the storm. She was electrocuted.

Jimmy Simpson, 21, of Palacios was missing after volunteering to swim to shore from a stalled cabin cruiser in Matagorda Bay.

Minton Takes Seat In Court

Truman's Appointee Approved By Senate

By JACK BELL

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Backed by tepid Senate approval, Judge Sherman Minton was expected today to take the oath of office promptly as a member of the United States supreme court.

The lawmakers approved his appointment last night by a vote of 48 to 16 after battling down a motion to send the nomination back to the judiciary committee.

Minton, who will be 59 years old October 20, was named by President Truman to succeed the late Justice Wiley B. Rutledge. He takes to the court an eight-year record as a judge of the seventh circuit court of appeals.

Minton was a strong new deal supporter when he was in the Senate and served for a time thereafter as a White House assistant to Roosevelt.

Minton is President Truman's fourth appointee to the nine-man supreme court. His others were Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Burton and Clark. President Roosevelt named the other five: Justices Black, Douglas, Reed Jackson and Frankfurter.

The program ranged from an operatic aria to American folk songs. She sang in English, Italian and German.

Miss Truman's party includes Helen Traubel, leading Wagnerian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera.

Small Korean Ship Capsizes With 200 Bound For Festival

Seoul, Oct. 5 (AP)—A small steamer loaded with about 200 Koreans capsized today en route to the island of Kangwha.

Only 76 passengers were rescued unharmed.

Twenty-four bodies had been recovered.

A report to the Korean Pacific press said 10 passengers were unconscious when they were taken from the water.

Congress Studies Navy Brass Moan On Lost Morale

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Congress members mapped out a study today of why navy brass expressed concern for the country's security under present defense policies, while the navy itself arranged a check into how this "confidential" concern became public.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee called his group into session to determine the scope of the Congressional probe.

The navy inquiry was announced by Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, without a definite starting date yet. Denfeld said the navy wants to find out who made public the correspondence in which Denfeld and two other admirals expressed their views on unification of the armed forces. The letters were slipped to newsmen Monday by a naval source who asked anonymity.

It was the subject matter of the three letters—indicating deep concern over navy morale under the existing army-navy-air force setup—which drew the attention of the House committee.

Rep. Arends (R-Ill.) told a reporter in advance of today's meeting that "any naval official who feels he has a contribution to make regarding this problem in the interest of national defense should be heard by the committee."

"The charges which have appeared in the press are serious indeed, and certainly the Congress and the country should learn the facts regarding the navy's viewpoint."

Denfeld, in his announcement last night, said the correspondence was "confidential" and should never have been made public. He indicated that someone is in for disciplining for turning the letters loose.

Denfeld's views of unification were attached to a memorandum written by Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan.

Bogan's letter said navy morale had sunk "almost to despondency" through the belief that the U. S. is being sold this "false bill of goods."

Admiral A. W. Radford, Bogan's superior in the navy's Pacific fleet command, sent the letter along after attaching the observation that most navy officers agreed with Bogan. Denfeld added to the correspondence by noting "present navy-wide concern" over the situation.

Eben School Gym Proposed Again

Special Election To Be Held Oct. 17

Chatham (Special)—A special election will be held Monday, October 17, at the township hall in Chatham on a proposal to increase the taxable property of the township school district by not more than 7 mills of the assessed valuation. The extra millage would be levied for a ten year period, 1949-1958.

Funds raised through the increase would be used to complete the gym-auditorium now in the process of construction at Eben through the paying off of bonds. The balloting at this election will not be for another 7 mills in addition to the 7 mills voted in the special election held June 20 of this year. We have to vote again on the 7 mill proposal because the attorney general of Michigan declared the election of June 20 invalid on September 10 because the notices did not state in writing that this 7 mills was in addition to the 5 mills voted in 1948 for road tax purposes.

Election will be held in the Chatham Town Hall Monday, October 17 from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Everyone 21 years of age and registered in Rock River township as a voter by 8 p. m. October 8 will be eligible to vote.

New residents and those who recently became 21 must register before October 8 in order to be able to vote. Walter Erickson, township clerk, will be at the Chatham Town Hall from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Saturday, October 8 to register all unregistered persons who wish to register.

No Wolf At Door Of Singer Jolson

By HAL BOYLE
New York, (P)—There is a Broadway saying that Al Jolson didn't invent hokum—he just found a way to put it in the bank. And at 64 the King of Schmaltz is still a young man working overtime to keep the wolf from his door.

I dropped in on the timeless mammy singer the other night, and found him still as energetic as a boy on a pogo stick.

"Come in, kid," he said, jauntily in a pigeon blue robe decorated with his initials in red. He bounced over to a hotel chair.

"This robe cost me $150,000," he remarked. "A broker gave it to me—but I bought some of his stock."

For the next hour Al kept up a running fire of wisecracks on his past, present and future.

At the moment Jolson is still collecting from "The Jolson Story" and waiting for the golden harvest from "Jolson Sings Again" to roll in. He's in the spot of a man who can't make any more money by working—because of the tax laws—but he still wants to keep busy.

Mr. Whiskers has got "Sonny Boy" crying uncle.

"I had to pay a million dollars in taxes last year," he grimaced. "The worst thing is they want you to show receipts and data."

"I don't even have dis-a, how'm I going to show 'em data?"

The phone rang in the bedroom. It was his wife, Earle, calling from California. Jolson's outraged voice echoed into the living room:

"What! Twelve hundred 'nd fifty? Wait until I get out there. Don't do a thing until then. I'll call you day after tomorrow."

Al came back in, indignant.

"Can ya imagine. We're addin' on couple small rooms. They want $1250 just to throw on some paint and hang a few draperies."

Can't Stay Simple
Jolson said he and his wife tried to live a simple life in the San Fernando Valley, but it was hard.

"You just can't lead a normal life," he grinned. "You have a butler, a maid, a cook, a place at Palm Springs—and they aren't deduced with the tax boys. And if you drive a jalopy out there, why they call you names."

"If you can get away for anything less than $1,500 a week I'll eat it."

Jolson has a formula for staying young—the same formula mentioned long ago by Aristotle, "nothing in excess."

"I don't overeat, and I don't oversleep," he said. "And Harry Truman gave me a good tip. He told me, 'if you quit, you die.'"

"I know it sounds corny, but what I'd like to do is go home and play with my kids. I don't know how."

"I'm a bigger success than I ever was. Now I want to sit down and play—and I don't know how. That's what I want—and I don't want. I'm a ham. I have to keep on singing, even if it's only in my bathroom."

I asked Al what he liked to read and he said:

"Well, I don't waste my time reading books about what will happen when the animals take over the world."

"To hell with that. The animals took over long ago."

All but that wolf. He'll never get past Al's door.

Offers Information On Social Security

"What is my stake in social security? Those words are becoming more and more important to every man, woman, and child who works for a living, because each has a constantly growing stake in the program," Carl L. Johnson, manager of the Escanaba, Michigan social security office said today.

"To the worker who approaches the age of 65, the thought that he will have some financial reserve to depend upon, a reserve he has worked to build up, is a very encouraging factor in planning for a retirement which will be slowly but surely forced upon him," Mr. Johnson said.

Menck Outlines Company Views On Union Election At Harnischfeger Plant

An election to determine whether the United Auto Workers, CIO, shall be sole bargaining agent for the employees of the Harnischfeger Corporation truck crane plant at Escanaba has been ordered by the National Labor Relations Board and the election scheduled for October 27 in the truck crane plant.

Herman Menck, of Milwaukee, vice president and works manager of the Harnischfeger Corporation, outlined the company's opposition to the recognition of a union as exclusive bargaining agent for company employees at this time in a letter addressed to the company's truck crane plant employees today. In the letter, Mr. Menck pointed out that the truck crane plant is in the process of expansion and declared that the decision as to which union should have bargaining rights should be postponed until the plant is running closer to its expected normal capacity.

Mr. Menck's letter to the company employees at the truck crane plant follows:

"As you know Harnischfeger is planning to make its truck crane plant at Escanaba an important part of its over-all operations. Construction of the plant was started a year ago and it was finished in its present shape last February. An addition to the main building is just now being started. It will take several months more before the personnel becomes familiar with operations and products which are to be built at this plant."

"Even before the plant was completed I was approached by Mr. Fox, representing the CIO, UAW, asking that I recognize his union as the sole and exclusive bargaining agent for all the employees at this plant. I told Mr. Fox that I have had very friendly relations with his union in another plant, but that it was too early to discuss a union for the truck crane plant, and that the decision as to which union should have bargaining rights should be postponed until the plant is running closer to its expected normal capacity."

"I want every man in this plant to know what is happening in this connection and will keep you fully informed on all developments."

Yours very truly,
H. Menck, vice president and works manager.

The Fine Art of the Apothecary has not been lost

• The old apothecary of other years was a mysterious and romantic figure. Under his magic influence roots, herbs, and minerals were turned into pills, extracts, and plasters. The doctor's prescriptions were filled, the patient's health and comfort restored. Although much of the mystery with which he was surrounded has vanished, the fine art of the apothecary has not been lost. A visit to our prescription department will convince the most skeptical that his function is an important adjunct to modern medical practice. When you find it necessary to consult a physician, bring your prescriptions to us to be filled. Your doctor's orders will be followed to the letter.

Duck Season Opens Friday

Shooting To Begin
12 O'clock Noon

The 1949 duck season, forecast as bigger and better than in many years, will open with its traditional bang on Friday noon (EST) in Michigan.

Reports from conservation officers and private observers indicate that ducks will be more plentiful than last season. Federal duck census figures show the duck and geese population on the upgrade after a decline that alarmed conservationists and hunters.

In Michigan the season on ducks, geese and brant, together with the coot and rails, will open Friday noon Oct. 7, and close Nov. 15.

Bag Limits

Favorite duck hunting spots will, as usual, include most of the bay shore area excepted those portions restricted under law as refuges. Some inland lakes, rivers and swales will call other hunters, who might want to combine duck shooting with a foray after upland game.

Bag limit on ducks is four in a day and eight in possession; with the daily limit on the American and red-breasted merganser at 25 singly or in the aggregate, and no limit on the number held in possession.

Geese and brant: Lawful to take in one day or have in possession four geese, of which two may be Canada or white-fronted geese, or one of each. No open season on Ross' geese.

The limit on coot is 10 a day and 10 in possession, and 25 and 25 on Sora rails. Rails (other than Sora) and gallinules is limited to a total of 15 and 15 in the aggregate.

Shooting Schedule

It is unlawful to use any firearms other than a shotgun or to use a shotgun larger than a 10 gauge, or any automatic or hand-operated shotgun capable of holding more than three shells in hunting migratory birds.

The time-table or shooting house for migratory birds for the coming season for the east half of Delta county, including Little Bay de Noc and Meeminee county:

	Opening	Closing
Oct. 7-14	6:24 a.m.	5:21 p.m.
Oct. 15-21	6:33 a.m.	5:08 p.m.
Oct. 22-28	6:41 a.m.	4:57 p.m.
Oct. 29
Nov. 4	6:50 a.m.	4:47 p.m.
Nov. 5-11	6:58 a.m.	4:39 p.m.
Nov. 12-15	7:07 a.m.	4:31 p.m.

The above schedule is on Eastern Standard Time.

For the west half of Delta county, and all of Big Bay de Noc and most of Schoolcraft and Alger counties, the opening and closing hours for shooting is four minutes earlier than the times given in the above table.

Fred Applin Stricken By Heart Attack

Fred Applin, 515 South Ninth street, proprietor of a used furniture shop at 1703 Ludington street, died at 3:05 p. m., Tuesday in St. Francis hospital. An hour before his death he was stricken with a heart attack while at work in his store, and was removed to the hospital by ambulance.

Fred Applin was born in 1884 in Marquette. For the past several years he has made his home in Escanaba. Prior to operating the furniture store, he was engaged in the restaurant business, running the Star Cafe in the 1300 block of Ludington street.

He is survived by his widow and several children.

The body was removed to the Frank Buchanan Funeral Home in Iron River.

Scooter Hearing Will Be Resumed

At Iron Mountain
Wednesday, Oct. 12

The state public service commission will resume its hearing on the request of the Chicago and North Western railroad to discontinue the "Scooter" passenger train between Escanaba and Iron River at 8:30 Wednesday evening, Oct. 12, in the Iron Mountain council rooms.

All cities which will be affected by the removal of the train are expected to be represented at the hearing. Lack of patronage on the "Scooter," which makes connection with the "400" streamliner at Powers, is the reason the railroad has petitioned to halt the service.

The first hearing was held in Escanaba about a month ago.

Budd Develops Diesel Coach

Suitable For Main
And Branch Lines

Chicago—A Diesel-powered stainless steel rail passenger car suitable for both main and branch line operations has been offered to the railroad industry by the Budd Company in a premiere showing at Union Station here.

The new air-conditioned coach, seating 90 persons in the first version displayed, is intended for service either singly or in multiple units, the Philadelphia car-building firm announced. Units with baggage and railway mail compartments will also be made available, the company added.

Torque Converter Transmission
A wartime propulsion development known as torque converter transmission, used to power tanks; drives the new car, it was disclosed. This consists of twin 275-horsepower General Motors Detroit Diesel engines coupled to the torque converter transmission which is built by the Allison Division of GM.

Edward G. Budd, Jr., president of the firm that has built many "name" trains for American railroads, stated the car is being offered for use in the many services where it can improve net revenues. The new car offers very real possibilities in making more profitable many railroad passenger operations, he added.

Budd officials pointed to the coach's high power to weight ratio, its effective drive and simplicity of power controls as a new conception in railway passenger transportation. In tests on the Delmarva division the car showed a maximum speed of 83 miles an hour with extraordinary rapid acceleration. Budd officials disclosed, before the car was moved to Chicago under its own power.

Though the bare car structure weighs only 21,000 pounds, Budd officials pointed out that the car meets the full strength requirements of the Association of American Railroads for unrestricted service. Mounting of the two engines and drive, 250-gallon fuel tank, batteries and cooling-water tanks under the car floor makes the full length of the coach available for revenue purposes, it was also explained.

Two other versions planned will accommodate a 17-foot baggage compartment and seats for 72 passengers, and a 17-foot baggage and 15-foot railway mail service compartment with seats for 49 passengers.

The Allison drive, it was explained, is a combination of converter and fluid coupling. The car starts smoothly and accelerates rapidly. As the engine speed picks up, maximum efficiency is exerted through the converter. When the car approaches cruising speed the transmission system locks automatically into direct drive.

Mead Praises Paper Makers

Industrialist Will Address C-C Tonight

Employees of the Escanaba Paper company were commended last night by George H. Mead, Dayton, Ohio, honorary chairman of the board, the Mead corporation, for their role in the development of the Groos mill which, he predicted, will become in five years one of the best and most profitable operations of the 16 Mead plants.

Mead spoke at a meeting of the Escanaba Paper company and Meristigue Pub. & Paper company supervisors at the House of Ludington last evening. This evening, Mead will be the principal speaker at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce annual dinner meeting at St. Joseph's parish hall, Grover Lewis, C. of C. president, will preside, and the speaker will be introduced by E. G. Bennett, manager of the Escanaba Paper company. The Escanaba senior high school ensemble directed by Mrs. Clara Somers, will play during the dinner, which will begin at 6 p. m.

Strong Demand
The Escanaba mill is producing a high quality paper for which there is a "strong demand," Mead told the supervisory group last evening. He praised the workers for the fine condition in which they were maintaining the plant and grounds, pointing out it was evidence that the influence of the late Joseph H. Slater, general manager, was still being felt.

"Joe Slater always believed a clean, attractive plant was needed to produce a high grade product," Mead said. The speaker and Slater, who died in 1935, were associated in the paper industry for more than a quarter century. Discussing labor-management policies, Mead reviewed the inauguration of a pension program for the corporation's workers two years ago. A portion of the Mead corporation profits are added to the pension fund and, he pointed out, this is an example of the benefits that accrue to employees of a corporation with several, diversified operations. Even though one plant might fail to show a profit, its workers would receive equal pension benefits from the profits of the other Mead units.

Foremen's Club
Mead urged the employees to develop an interest in national and international affairs in addition to the job of making a living. Discussions on public affairs, he advised, would make worthwhile programs for meetings of the Foremen's club, which is being organized at the Escanaba Paper com-

"Everything we have in this country—our industries, our jobs—will be worthless unless we save our democracy and our freedoms," Mead asserted. "We must prevent any minority from destroying this country. We must get the people of every community to straighten their thinking. I am confident we are going to save America from disaster and also save democracy. I think we have a great future; I am still very optimistic."

Ed Packenham who presided as toastmaster, announced the appointment of a committee to arrange for an organization meeting of the Foremen's club in November. Committee members are: Francis Rogers, Ernest Martin, Leonard Hornblad, Einar Beck and Ed Packenham.

Brief talks were also given last evening by E. G. Bennett, manager of the Escanaba Paper company, and R. W. Haddock, retired general superintendent.

U. P. Air Mail Hopes Brighten

Nationwide Airlines Has Good Prospects

By ESTHER TUFTY

Washington—The outlook is brighter for Nationwide Airlines, Inc. to secure an expanded air-mail and passenger service.

A Michigan delegation Monday presented a petition from the Upper Peninsula Air Transportation committee to chairman Joseph McConnell, of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Two of the three men, Senator Homer Ferguson and Representative Charles Potter, agreed after the conference that "there were sound reasons for being optimistic." Representative John Bennett still thinks the CAB takes too lightly the interests of the communities and he fears Wisconsin-Central, "which has had two years to do something," will be given more time.

It was obvious the chairman was impressed with the argument, perhaps new to him, that even if the already certificated Wisconsin-Central could finance extension service to the Upper Peninsula, the route was not the one preferred by the communities objecting.

If Nationwide could add Green Bay, Wisconsin and Grand Rapids to their existing route, it would be "more Michigan" both for mail and passenger service.

With chances of a hearing considered good, the three Michigan men had this to say after the conference.

Ferguson: It is a good case to connect the Upper and Lower Peninsulas of the state on an air route for mail and passenger. I thought the chairman was fully conscious of the logic of that.

Potter: Chairman O'Connell spoke in favorable terms. Of course, he's only one man on the committee.

Bennett: I am going to wait until I see some action. Two months ago I was told by CAB that Wisconsin Central would get some $50 and $65 thousand due from the government and would then start its service, but it didn't. The idea of giving more time to feeder lines to secure financing is all right up to a certain time-limit. The "time" has come according to this congressman.

SAAR WANTS ANTHEM

Saarbrücken, Germany (AP)—Several months ago the Ministry of Culture of the Saar, now economically merged with France, invited proposals for a national anthem. Now the ministry found that none of the 537 drafts submitted was good. It urgently requested the poet, Johannes Kirchweg, to write one.

History Of Whalebacks Recalled At Hancock

Hancock, Mich. — Considerable interest attached to the Canadian whaleback vessels John Ericsson and Alexander Holley as they passed through Portage lake last month. Most folks imagined that these cigar-shaped boats had disappeared from the Great Lakes. And, to all pretenses, their assumption was right as far as United States inland shipping is concerned. The last U. S. whaleback was scrapped in 1946. Rightfully, it was called the Alexander McDougall.

Interlake Steamship Co. sources indicate that no better name than McDougall could be given a whaleback ship inasmuch as Scotsman McDougall was the designer of the odd-shaped forerunner of the present day big bulk collier.

McDougall was born in the land of the heather in 1848. Early in life he bade farewell to his bonnie homeland and presently found himself a careerman on the Great Lakes. At 25 years, he was already a ship captain.

At this early date, the decade between 1870 and 1880, the early iron-hulled ships that were already beginning to take the place of the wooden carriers of the time, were handicapped by their dwarfed amount of carrying space.

Inasmuch as ship design had always been paramount in McDougall's mind, he soon brought forth a tangible scheme of vessel construction which was ultimately to be called "McDougall's Dream."

In 1888, the cigar-shaped vessel became a living thing. The original whaleback was termed the "101". It was 187 feet long and of the barge type. During the next 10 years a total of 46 cigar-like boats were constructed. Ten of these hit the lake surface from McDougall's own ship yards in Superior. As a matter of fact, Mac's launchings earned quite a reputation for him. The christening of the vessels "were held every Saturday night for eight Saturdays in 1893. On the ninth Saturday, two ships and a tug were launched."

Shipped First Mesabi Ore
One of the whaleback boats gave the foxy Scotsman some particularly appropriate distinction. On Nov. 11, 1892, his barge, the "102", plowed into Cleveland's harbor with 2,073 tons of Mesabi iron ore aboard. This was the first such ore ever shipped on the Great Lakes from the extensive range in Minnesota.

Interlake indicates that among the first of the funnel shaped boats launched at Duluth, the following were included: Joseph Coulby, Charles Wetmore, A. D. Thompson, and Samuel Mather. The latter is not the present day Mather of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co.'s fleet.

Shortly before the turn of the century, the cigar form structure became outmoded. In 1898, McDougall's daughter christened the last of the whalebacks. Fittingly, she gave it her dad's name. But even this vessel had a conventional bow.

Mac, died in Duluth on May 22, 1923. Prior to his demise however, he knew what great contributions he had given the ships in the ore and coal trade. Many of these innovations persisted for years; many others fell by the wayside with the continual march of time.

Incidentally, though, thousands of people in the vicinity of the Great Lakes, to say nothing about the many hundreds about Portage lake, remember the only whaleback steamer to decorate the nation's inland seas, the Christopher Columbus. Built in 1892, she had three main promenades and a top deck besides. Definitely cigar-shaped, the vessel frequently called at Houghton. At that time she was specializing in the excursion business.

State Board Backs Nationwide Airmail Bid For Peninsula

Lansing, Mich., (AP)—The State Administration Board Tuesday endorsed the petition of the Nationwide Airlines to the Civil Aeronautics Board for authority to carry U. S. mails between Detroit and Upper Peninsula points.

The board approved a resolution by the State Aeronautics Commission to intervene in behalf of Nationwide Airlines before the C.A.B.

PTA Committee Meeting
Chatham, Mich.—At a PTA committee meeting of the Rock River PTA held at the home of Mrs. Toini Seppi of Lond's Spur, local PTA president, Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, a tentative program for the year was planned. All officers and standing committee members were present. It was decided to sponsor a rummage sale in the National Lutheran church of Chatham on election day, Monday, October 17. The women of the Ladies' Aid of the church will also serve coffee. Stations for the collecting of material for the rummage sale are:

Pantti's Store—Rumely.
Seppi's Store—Lond's Spur.
Lud Knaus' Store—Traumik.
Chatham Church, Walfrid Mickelson home, Leslie Latvala home—Chatham.
Jacob Harsela Store—Sundell.
Vincent Truden Store—Forest Lake.

Mrs. Walfrid Mickelson and Mrs. Leslie Latvala will be in charge of the sale. Anyone having articles to contribute please bring them to any of the designated places as soon as possible.

An old time dance was decided on. The suggestion was made that it be held in the Traumik hall. No date was set. Committee in charge: Mrs. Lud Knaus, chairman, Mrs. Hilda Trelford, Mrs. Norman Revard, Mrs. Leo Poikela, and Mrs. George Kallio.

A fancy goods and baked goods sale will be held.

It was decided to give an English play before Christmas, a Christmas party before school closed for the holiday recess, and a Finnish play in the spring.

Mrs. Walfrid Mickelson has accepted the chairmanship for the program committee.

The lunch committee for the October 20th PTA meeting will be: Mrs. Elsie Norberg, chairman; Mrs. Waino Maki, Mrs. Wm. Lintula, Mrs. Vern Dunquist, Mrs. Arne Hautamaki, Mrs. William Niemi, Mrs. Vern Sepela, Mrs. William Hautamaki, and Mrs. Archie Donner.

Stork Shower

A stork shower was held Sunday evening, October 2, in honor of Mrs. Arthur Wolcott, at her home. Hostesses were Mrs. Leo Poikela, Mrs. Frank Stuer, Jr., Mrs. Walfrid Mickelson, and Mrs. John Seppi. Mrs. Wolcott received many lovely gifts including a hassinet. Six tables of bunco were in play. First prize was won by Mrs. Glen Price, second by Mrs. Nick Barovitch, and third prize by Mrs. Toivo Kallio.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Albertina Lahti was pleasantly surprised at her home Wednesday, Sept. 28, on her 87th birthday by a group of her friends. The group sang her favorite hymns, and she was presented with a number of gifts. Lunch was served. Present were: Mrs. Hilda Wanska, Mrs. Hilda Palonen, Mrs. Helma Lehto, Mrs. Sophie Lammi, Mrs. Emilea Carlson, Mrs. Katrina Jokinen, Mrs. Ruth Backman, Mrs. Tynne Sturvest, Mrs. Phina Joel, and Mrs. Ailie Hakala.

Smear Party

A smear party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Varti last Friday evening. The women beat the men at smear. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Aale Hoyhtya, Mr. and Mrs. Arne Varti, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Swanson, and Mr. and Mrs. William Niemi.

Health Unit Meeting

A meeting of the Alger county health league will be held Wednesday evening at the Chatham school following the homemaking extension supper rally. Louis Mikulich of Traumik, county chairman, will be in charge.

Net Fishermen Given Leeway

Laws In Wisconsin Waters Relaxed

Madison, Wis.—Substantial concessions to commercial fishermen of Green bay and Lake Michigan have been granted by the conservation commission in a rewriting of the commercial fisheries regulatory code for those waters, publication of the new order disclosed here Wednesday.

Members of the commission voted the changes at a Milwaukee session a fortnight ago, after fishermen had asked for some changes in the official rules governing their harvests.

Seasons More Favorable
The order generally grants closed seasons that are more favorable for the fishermen, but it denies the often repeated demand for a relaxation of the size limit rule on perch taken from Green bay. The minimum size on perch taken commercially will remain at eight inches.

Here are the new closed season schedules for the principal varieties of commercial fish as compared with the former rules:

Lake trout Oct. 10 to Nov. 10, instead of Oct. 10 to Nov. 15.

Whitefish Nov. 1 to Dec. 10, instead of Oct. 10 to Dec. 10.

Chubs Nov. 1 to Nov. 30, instead of Oct. 10 to Nov. 15.

In Green bay waters, there will be a uniform closed season on yellow perch, suckers, wall-eyed pike and pickerel from April 10 to May 19, instead of varying dates that prevailed heretofore.

Two Closed Seasons
Fishermen must remove all nets from the water on Lake Michigan and northern Green bay between the dates of Nov. 1 and Nov. 30, and on southern Green bay between April 10 and May 19, but permits will be issued to fishermen for the taking of species that do not spawn during those periods, explained Dr. E. W. Schnerberger, head of the state fisheries division.

The commission has also dropped the traditional mesh size rules for the entrapment-type nets, including fyke, drop and pound nets, so that regulation of harvest will be by means of minimum size limits imposed for the fish, principally trout and whitefish, taken with such gear.

Pollen-Carriers
Insects do most of the cross-fertilizing of flowers, although humming birds and bats frequently perform the job. Even snails have been known to carry pollen.

MAKING MUSIC—Rehearsals are serious business for Escanaba junior high school band members. Pictured upper left (left to right) are girls in the clarinet section, Shirley Vanderberghe, Sonia Hansen, Shirley Hartwig and Olive Kirkpatrick. Two of the Junior high school band boys, valiantly tooting horns, are pictured to the upper right. They are (left to right) James Mongrain with an alto horn, and John Woodruff, playing the musical but difficult French horn. These musicians will graduate into the senior high school band, pictured at the bottom on the W. W. Oliver auditorium stage. The Senior high band now numbers 56 members but is expected to be enlarged within another year as the result of a program to increase the number of students receiving musical training in the schools. Road Funds Inadequate; Delta Commission Calls For County-Wide Action

Supervisors from the cities and townships of Delta county, who will meet in budget session Oct. 10 in Escanaba, are expected to discuss the latest appeal of the Delta county road commission for adequate funds to carry on a county road program on a county-wide basis.

"We cannot expect aid from elsewhere. We must act to help ourselves as others have," the road commission points out in a letter addressed to supervisors and other officials and citizens of the county.

Delta county in 1948 spent $6.02 per capita for its local roads, second to the bottom in road expenditures among the 15 Upper Peninsula counties, the commission reports.

Below U. P. Average

Menominee county, highest in per capita road expenditures, spent $19.39 or a total of $482,585; compared with Delta's $6.02 per capita for a total of $204,793. Lowest per capita road spending was in Houghton—$5.58.

The average per capita expenditure for county roads in the Upper Peninsula was $10.51 last year. Delta county was $4.49 per capita below this average.

The Delta county road commission, composed of Harry Green of Garden, chairman; Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone and Elmer Klasell of Escanaba, reported that road income is not sufficient to adequately serve the people of the county and that the condition of the county road system is "far from desirable."

Hope For Action

Hoped-for aid for roads from the legislature has not materialized, and appeals for assistance from the townships has "not proven sufficient to help the situation to any great extent," the commission reported.

In directing attention of the people to the problem through the board of supervisors, the commission expressed the hope that it would bring "definite corrective action to alleviate this situation locally, until such time as legislation is passed to handle it through normal sources from the state level."

The commission pointed out that Menominee county last year spent 2.36 times as much for roads compared to Delta county; that Menominee, Alger and Marquette, all neighboring counties, have county road taxes and have been able to match federal road funds, thereby doubling parts of their local monies for roads.

Cities Cooperating

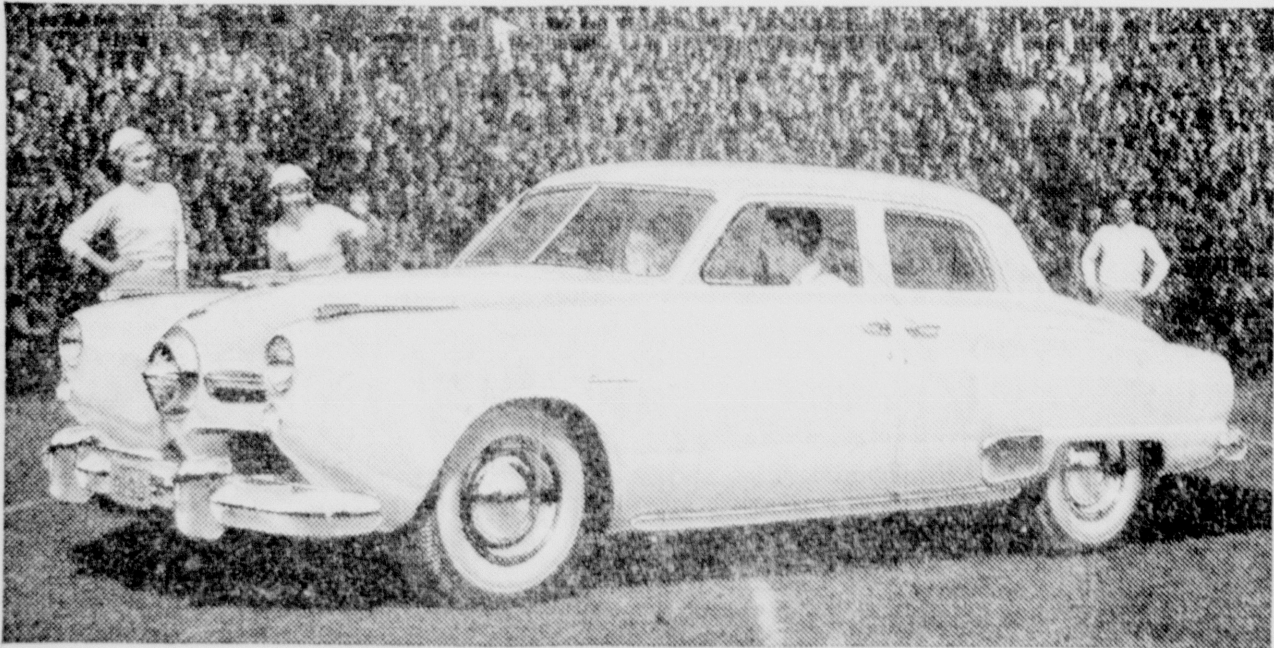

"Note that the leading counties appropriate on a 'county-wide basis' whether it is by road tax or township sales tax funds; and that the cities of Menominee, Marquette, Munising, Ontonagon, Houghton, Hancock, Calumet and other villages of the Upper Peninsula help pay for local county roads through an assessed millage in their counties, assessed on the county as a whole," the commission reported.

It was suggested by the road commission that Delta county townships and cities send their representatives to the October board meeting "with complete authority to take definite action" toward a solution of the road finance problem.

In a further comparison with other U. P. counties, it was reported that Delta has 820 miles of road and the commission employs 58 persons, or one employee for each 14.8 miles of road. This is the highest ratio for any U. P. county, and far above the U. P. average of 9.7 miles per employee.

Breath-taking new 1950 Studebaker!

IT'S THE "NEXT LOOK" IN CARS

All over America, all eyes are on this dramatically different 1950 Studebaker. It's the most sensational advance in car styling since Studebaker introduced the "new look" in cars three years ago.

This 1950 Studebaker is long, low, luxurious—and it's trim, sleek and flight-streamlined—no bulging excess bulk to squander gasoline.

Stop in and get a close-up eyeful of this breath-taking new Studebaker. It's the "next look" in cars.

War Souvenirs Are Dangerous

Guns 6,000 Deaths Annually In U. S.

By JANE EADS

Washington — That German luger that it is charged ex-GI Howard Unruh used to kill 13 people on a Camden, N. J., street was a war trophy. Eighty per cent of all armed crimes committed today are with trophy weapons. They are the perfect crime tool. They can't be traced by ballistics tests or serial numbers. Innocently brought into the country, 10 years from now they could be in a criminal's hand.

Officials believe there are still thousands of German lugers and other explosive war trophies in circulation. Henry Schneider of the Treasury Department's Internal Revenue Bureau tells me that explosive war trophies are causing 6,000 deaths a year. About 80 per cent of those fatally injured are children.

Most of the deaths and injuries are accidental and result from lack of the trophy owner's knowledge that they are still "alive." Time does not lessen the danger. People are still getting killed from Revolutionary War trophies. The luger, the even deadlier German "burp" gun, the "empty" shell you use as an andiron, the "butterfly mine" on your mantel, small shells—incendiaries or tracers—may go off unexpectedly today or 100 years from now.

This worries Henry Schneider. He used to be a T-man in the Bureau of Internal Revenue's law enforcement service. It was part of his job to enforce the National Firearms Act of 1934, which placed a prohibitive tax on certain weapons as they changed hands, whether by gift or by sale. Use of the tommy gun by gangsters was virtually wiped out by this law.

Then along came World War II. Thousands of souvenir weapons, including those coming under requirements of the act, were brought into the country. A potential 20,000,000 GIs and merchant seamen could be bringing them back. And John Smith, never a violator, brought home a weapon to hang in his living room.

In 1947 Henry Schneider interested the Treasury department, the Army, Navy and Air-forces, linked with the National Rifle Association, in organizing a mass educational project and in enlisting some 20,000 volunteers throughout the country to advise trophy owners of the hazards.

Members of the committee advise trophy owners to have their trophies examined by Army, Navy or Air Force ordnance experts and have them deactivated if necessary (without cost). The Rifle Association advises trophy owners who want to use the guns in hunting and target work on proper usage. The Treasury registers machine guns and pistols.

FIREMAN, SAVE MY FISH!

Toulouse, France (AP)—Firemen in the department of Lot were called to rescue fish which were threatened with suffocation through the low water-level of the river Bave. Two hundred pounds of fish were picked up in nets, transferred into water-tanks on trucks, and safely transported to another point where the drought's effects were less severe.

School Band Musicians Toot Cooperatively To Benefit Self And City

There is more to a school band program than appears in the playing of the youngsters in a concert, parade, or at a football game, although that is important, too, according to Robert Meyer, director of instrumental music in the Escanaba public schools.

Behind the scenes is long hours of rehearsal for the students, some of it individually at home, and some of it in groups in school. Despite the traditional attitude that parents suffer while their children practice, Meyer has found that parents, instead of "suffering," are pleased when their child shows an aptitude for music and becomes a member of the school band or orchestra.

Because of the increasing interest of school students in music, the parents of 138 pupils in the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades have been invited to attend a meeting tonight in Room 201 at the Junior high school. The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Plan Bigger Bands
At that meeting the parents and students will be presented with a plan whereby additional musical instruments can be obtained for the students under a "rental-purchase" program in cooperation with an Escanaba music store.

The increasing interest in the school music program is eventually expected to result in the organization of three school bands: An All City Grade School Honor band to be composed of the best players from each grade school and numbering about 35 musicians; a Junior high school band, and a Senior high school band, each numbering about 65 members.

School music programs benefit the student, the school and the community, school authorities agree.

There is the benefit to the boy or girl in learning to become an integral part of a working organization. He learns team work, cooperation, and good citizenship.

The health of the music student is improved in playing a musical instrument. Their breathing and posture is improved, their coordination is better because of the training they receive.

Many Benefits
Aside from the health angle the young people obtain an emotional outlet that will carry through into adult life. Mastery of a musical instrument aids poise, brings greater appreciation for and understanding of music.

For some individuals music can become a profession; for others an avocation that brings satisfaction to themselves and pleasure to others.

School officials point to the benefit to the school by having a well-drilled band. School spirit is enhanced, the pride of the student body in their school is greater, and the individual student becomes more closely associated as a working unit of the whole school.

There is also a tangible benefit to the community, they agree. The appearance of a good school band, or bands, in a parade or other community activity makes such events more successful and directly builds community spirit.

Music is most helpful, however, to the boy and girl who play a musical instrument. It is an enduring accomplishment that can bring rewarding satisfaction for a lifetime.

News Dealer Fined In Assault Case

Wallace Smith, local news dealer, entered a plea of nolle contendere to a charge of assault and battery on a complaint signed by Tony Wahl, local druggist, in justice court this week and was fined $25 and costs. Justice of the Peace Henry Ranguette suspended $15 of the fine and Smith paid $10 and costs.

The charge was an outgrowth of an exchange of blows at the Wahl Drug store Sunday night.

May Dismiss Damage Suit

Judge Jackson To Rule On Motion

Jury trial in a $5,000 damage suit in circuit court was interrupted this morning by a defense motion for dismissal of the action because it had not been started within the statute limitation.

The case is that of Mrs. Mary Alice Peterson of Escanaba, who is asking $5,000 damages for injuries allegedly suffered by her son, Raymond W. Martin, on Sept. 7, 1945, when the boy was 10 years old.

The defendants are Peter Silvernagle and his brother-in-law, Herbert E. Flath, of Escanaba.

Question of Law
Judge Glenn W. Jackson described the motion as raising "a very serious question of law" and excused the jury until 1:30 p. m. It is the allegation of the plaintiff that the boy was struck with a heavy broom by Silvernagle, who was employed by Flath; that he was injured and required hospitalization and nursing care.

Counsel for the defendant in support of the motion for dismissal said the action was started nearly three years after the alleged assault, and that suits on the basis of assault and battery must be started within two years, under the statute. The motion came following the drawing of a jury and after the jury had heard the opening statement of plaintiff's counsel.

Plaintiff's counsel declared the action was founded on the damages to mother and child; that the damages were not immediately noted; and that an operation on the child occurred two years after the assault. The statute on limitations should not apply in such cases, counsel for the plaintiff insisted.

The court asked plaintiff's counsel for authority in law to support his position and allowed him until 1:30 to look up and prepare an answer to the motion. The jury drawn to hear the case is composed of Arthur Bolm, Ellen Johnson, Louis Pintal, John Nyquist, Matthew G. Lewis, Ruth O. Johnson and Clara Kenny of Escanaba; Erick Newman of Gladstone; Andrew Barr of Bark River township; Margaret Blair, Brampton; Charles E. Carlson, Maple Ridge; and Oscar Seguin of Wells.

The case is the only jury trial scheduled for this term. All other members of the venire have been dismissed.

No Decision On Air Mail

CAB Chairman Says No Action Taken

"No decision yet" was the comment made this morning by Joseph O'Connell, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, when contacted by the Escanaba Daily Press' Washington correspondent regarding the petition of Nationwide Airlines to carry air mail in Michigan.

O'Connell had previously promised a decision on the scheduling of a hearing on the petition would be made today.

Last Ore Boat To Load Today

C&NW Docks Close After Tonight

The continuing CIO steel and miners strike today caused the closing of the two Chicago & North Western ore docks in Escanaba, with a consequent lay-off of 75 men.

Unless the strike is settled before the end of this month it appears unlikely that the docks will resume operation again this season.

said he will make a personal check at the CAB office this afternoon.

son, according to Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent.

The dock crews have been reduced as the arrival of ore from the mines declined, until today there are but a handful of men there to handle the loading of the last boats scheduled. After tonight the docks will close down and only watchmen and a small office force will remain.

The steamer Wilkinson cleared yesterday afternoon after loading, and three boats, the Joseph Morrow, Joseph Wood and E. L. Ford were loaded today.

The Ford is scheduled to arrive at 5 p. m. and will be loaded and clear between 8 and 9 p. m. tonight—marking the end of loading for this season so far as it can be determined now.

McMillan said that enough ore is on hand here to load one or two more boats and they may come in within another week, but none are now scheduled.

1949 Daily Press Big Fish Winners Named

Some close competition and five new records were the highlights of the Fishing Contest for 1949, the thirteenth in the series of annual contests sponsored by the Daily Press. Judging of the entries has been completed and the following are the winners:

Lake Trout—33 pounds, caught by Len Hawken of Vicksburg, Mich., while fishing in the Munsing area of Lake Superior.

Northern Pike—13 pounds, 12 ounces, caught by Pat McDonough, Escanaba, while fishing in the yacht harbor here.

Walleye—12 pounds, 7 ounces, caught by Lee Tarrow of Garden in Big Bay de Noc near the mouth of the Big Fishdam river.

Brown Trout—5 pounds, 12 ounces, caught by Wayne Stanley of Thompson, Mich., from Thompson creek.

Large Mouth Black Bass—5 pounds, 2 ounces, caught by Abe Herro of Escanaba from Misy Bay.

Small Mouth Black Bass—5 pounds, caught by Richard McLaughlin of Elgin, Illinois, from Big Bass Lake, Schoolcraft county.

Brook Trout—3 pounds, 3 ounces, caught by Mrs. Betty Branyan of Manistique from the Milakokia river in Schoolcraft county.

Bullhead—2 pounds, 7 ounces, caught by R. W. Coolman, Escanaba, from the Escanaba yacht harbor.

White Bass—2 pounds, caught by Mrs. R. W. Coolman, Escanaba, from the Escanaba yacht harbor.

Rainbow Trout—17 inches in length, caught by Willis J. Anthony from the Escanaba river in Delta county.

Perch—1 pound, 5 ounces, caught at Manistique harbor by Lawrence Rubick of Manistique.

Bluegill—1 pound, 4 ounces, caught by Diane L. Olson of Lansing, Mich., from Thunder lake in Schoolcraft county.

Rock Bass—1 pound, caught by R. W. Coolman, Escanaba, from the Escanaba yacht harbor.

The new class records established this year are for Walleye, Perch, Bullhead, Bluegill and White Bass. An oddity of the contest occurred in the Rainbow class where rumors of one or more huge fish evidently scared off the usual flood of entries last spring. The winner was entered in an offhand manner incidental to a good sized black bass. Mr. Anthony's trout was ready for cooking at the time and it was impossible to get weight or other measurements other than length which was nearly three inches more than the next largest entry that was turned in.

Another unusual occurrence was the team of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Coolman taking three top fish—the Bullhead, White Bass and Rock Bass. In the past there have been instances where one angler took two firsts and where two members of the same family scored but this is the first time that three winners were caught by members of one family. The Coolmans are partisans of the Escanaba waterfront and entered many of their catches.

Awards are now being assembled and will be sent to the fishermen who entered the winning fish.

Neurotic Is Suicide In Miami To Spare Wife In East Lansing

East Lansing, Mich. (AP)—A self-described "neurotic" took his own life early Tuesday while talking on the telephone with his "young and beautiful wife" in East Lansing, Mich.

He said in a letter made public by police that he shot himself to stop "the wrecking of three lives."

"One neurotic life for two normal, happy, beautiful ones is a cheap price to pay," he wrote.

Homicide Detective Clarence E. Hall identified the man as Kendrick N. Lake, about 35, and said it was "definitely suicide."

Hall said a downtown hotel received a frantic telephone call from Mrs. Lake at East Lansing, Mich., about 1 a. m. (EST) reporting her husband had shot himself. A bellboy and a parking lot attendant found the body in a kneeling position before a chair. Hall said. A telephone dangled nearby.

Tech Sault Branch Scholarship Offered

Announcement has been made of the offer of a $100 scholarship to a deserving graduate of a Delta county high school who intends to attend the Sault Branch of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

The scholarship is offered by Paul P. Hoholik of the Straits Engineering company of Sault Ste. Marie.

Students interested are asked to apply to the Sault branch for particulars. The scholarship will be awarded in a different county each year. Delta county was chosen as the first recipient.

Vishinsky Says UN Can Come To Moscow In 1953

New York, N. Y., (AP)—The New York Times said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky has suggested Russia play host to the United Nations general assembly in 1953.

The Times said the suggestion was made at a dinner Friday at Soviet delegation headquarters here, after Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, president of the current session, had asked Vishinsky whether the 1950 assembly could convene in Moscow.

Vishinsky pondered a moment, the Times said, then suggested 1953. The Times added:

"Secretary General Trygve Lie, sitting close by, heard the reply that so many delegates have hoped to hear from the aloof Russians and he quickly cut in to ask Mr. Vishinsky why not earlier than 1953."

"Again Mr. Vishinsky pondered, and finally he said 1953 was all right."

The U. S. produced about 800 million tons of steel between 1940 and 1949.

Episcopal Laymen
Meet Oct. 14-16
At Fortune Lake

The fifth annual Episcopal laymen's conference will be held at Fortune Lake, October 14-16. It was announced by Glen B. Wilson of Marquette, president of "The Bishop's Men", of the Diocese of Northern Michigan. Increasing attendance each succeeding year indicates a record turnout.

The Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, Bishop of the diocese, was instrumental in obtaining the services of St. Esprit, Cap Haitien, Haiti, as guest speaker. The Rev. Stines attended the National Lyceum in Port-Au-Prince, and the theological seminary, and was ordained in 1945. Since that time, he has established missions in the Cap Haitien area. At present the Rev. Stines is at the General Theological seminary in New York City for special work before returning to Haiti.

Bishop Page, who has been attending the triennial convention of the Episcopal church at San Francisco, will give highlights of this meeting. Plans for the utilization of the newly acquired diocesan conference center at Little Lake will be discussed. Mrs. Tom Perry will again have charge of the commissary, which assures wonderful meals.

All laymen of the diocese are invited and urged to attend. They should make reservations through the rector of their parish, or direct through Wilson.

Mrs. Banks Is Honored By Past Matrons

Mrs. F. A. Banks sr. of Escanaba was elected an honorary member of the Past Matrons club of the R. C. Hatheway chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star at a meeting of the club yesterday.

Fourteen matrons and three guests were present for the meeting at Kilcare, the Stegath cottage on the Ford River. Guests were Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Millicent Fitzpatrick of Gladstone, who is a grand electa of the Michigan grand chapter of O. E. S., and Mrs. Gideon Stegath jr.

Mrs. Banks knit 96 blocks, the equivalent of six afghans during the club's afghan project this year. The afghans are sent to veterans hospitals.

Plans for a fancy work sale in the Masonic Temple on the evening of October 22 were discussed by the past matrons. Chop suey lunch was served by Mrs. Stegath.

Births

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Moser of Escanaba, Route One, Oct. 2, in St. Francis hospital. The baby, first child in the family, weighed 5 lbs., 13 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heider of Hermansville are the parents of a son, their first child, born Oct. 3 in St. Francis hospital. He weighed 8 lbs., 9 oz.

Buttermilk has approximately the same food value as skim milk.

Extra Care
Gives A Lift
To The Invalid

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
When a woman is ill, the little extra beauty care that she gives herself, or has her nurse give to her, will help to lift her morale and safeguard her looks.

Hair that's messy because fever flushes out perspiration and oil cannot, of course, be washed. But it can be made to look fluffy, fresh and sweet-smelling with a scented talcum powder which can be brushed out almost as fast as it's dusted into hair.

No sick woman wants to thrash about in a smear of face cream (as effective as that might be for a fever-dried skin). But an application of cream, removed after it cleans and refreshes skin, will add to an invalid's comfort and look of well-being.

Hands and feet treated to a creamy lotion will feel and look pampered. If massage accompanies the application of cream, hands and feet will feel more relaxed.

Time spent convalescing passes more swiftly when a woman spends some of it polishing off her beauty chores giving herself a slow and painstaking manicure and pedicure; getting rid of corns and callouses; weeding out superfluous hair; plucking eyebrows to make arcs that have the look of almost compass-drawn perfection.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are sending out written invitations to a child's birthday party.

WRONG WAY: Give the time the party is to begin, but not the time when it is to end.

RIGHT WAY: Give both times, so that the parents can make arrangements for picking the children up afterward.

BEST-MADE PLANS

Chicago (AP)—Ricardo Nelson runs a travel agency. He has mapped tours for many vacationists. His interest in his work was more than professional. He had the urge to go places, too. Finally, with the summer rush over, Nelson planned a nice long motor trip for himself. He got everything ready with practiced ease. Then the night before the takeoff date the brick wall of his garage collapsed. His car—and his plans—were ruined.

A large type railway engine is capable of carrying 5000 gallons of water in its tender.

Rapid River

Bobby's Birthday Party
Rapid River—Bobby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Caswell, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary on Thursday. His birthday was September 28.

The home was decorated in pink, blue and white. The children played games and prizes were awarded to Martha Cole and JoAnne Caswell. Supper was served the little guests with the decorated birthday cake centering the table. In the evening cartoon movies were shown.

Little friends and playmates who helped him celebrate his birthday were Anthony Cavill, Allen Lee Paul, Danny and Mary Ann Short, Kenny Person, Jimmy Casimir, Irvin Wnuck, Jimmy Johnson, Bobby Micheau, Glenn Ross, Barbara Radloff, David Hamilton, Linda Lagerquist, Mary Johnson, Norman Hummon, Martha Cole, Mary Jo Kuehn, Elizabeth Slough, Hughie Cassidy and Bobby's sister, JoAnne.

AFGHANISTAN: The Forgotten Country

The turbulent 20th century seems to have ignored Afghanistan almost entirely. In press dispatches, one rarely sees its name. In both world wars, the country remained neutral. Yet it is a strategic country, its 250,000 square miles larger than the combined areas of France, Belgium and Holland, and it occupies an important spot in southwest Asia, bounded on the west by Iran, on the north by Soviet Russia and on the east by Pakistan. Its population of 12,000,000 devotes itself almost exclusively to agriculture, raising sizable quantities of fruits, cereals and vegetables. The fat-tailed sheep is native to the country, furnishing the Afghans their chief meat diet. There are no railroads. Merchandise is transported on camel or pony back along the seven important trade routes. The only city which has any looks of modernity is Kabul, the capital, where the country's one university and the palace of the King, Mohammed Zahir Shah, are located. Max Desfor, an AP staff photographer, recently traversed the country, taking these pictures.

RULER. King Mohammed Zahir Shah, 35, ascended throne in 1923. He proclaimed new constitution in 1932 under which slavery and forced labor are forbidden.

SLOW MOTION. Camel caravan and mule pack train plod over the high winding trail of the Lataband Pass on the way to Kabul. These are the only means of transportation.

MAIN STREET in Kabul, the capital, is a wide, clean thoroughfare. The traffic light in the center is a recent innovation. It is hand operated by a policeman.

U.S. TEACHER. Mrs. Fern Fletcher of Los Angeles with pupils at Habibia College now in its 46th year of operation. All 12 teachers in school are Americans.

BREAD FOR SALE. A baker offers his wares in an open-air bazaar in Kabul. Bread, called "nand", is a piece of unleavened baked dough.

SHAVE AND A HAIRCUT. Barber plies his trade in Kabul bazaar. Most businesses are conducted in the brilliant sunshine the city enjoys most of the year.

ELECTION. Voter takes almond from container and drops it in tray or teapot for designated candidate. Pictures on trays identify candidates.

Charged with statutory rape, the complaining witness being a 15-year-old girl, Leo Hilleweath, 49, of Hiawatha township, was bound over to circuit court following an examination of his case in justice court Tuesday morning.

The alleged offense, according to the testimony, was committed on May 31, while Mrs. Hilleweath was in a hospital where she had given birth to her sixteenth child. When asked why the complainants had not made this complaint before, they said that they were afraid of the defendant.

The defendant was asked whether he wished to have any witnesses testify in his defense, he answered in the negative.

Following the examination Hilleweath was bound over to the coming term of circuit court and his bond set at $5,000. Unable to provide bond, he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff and is now awaiting trial in the county jail.

The case was brought to light a few days ago when Hilleweath went to the hospital at Newberry and applied for admission stating that he was mentally unsound. He was questioned and statements revealed things of a suspicious nature. Questioning of members of the family brought to light the grim details of the case.

The family resides in the Cusino vicinity in the extreme northern part of the county.

Opened Bird Season A Bit Too Early

Don Skidmore and E. M. Read, of Detroit, and John Burgraff of Manistique started hunting a bit too early on the first day of the hunting season. The official time was seven o'clock in the morning but these men were found afield by Officer Derwin some time before that. Monday they pleaded guilty before Judge W. G. Stephens and each drew fines and costs.

"How about introducing a bill having the government ask the farmer to guarantee government income?"

Mrs. Irma Waters, Former Resident Here, Passes Away

Mrs. Irma Waters, who was for years a resident of Manistique, but for the past ten years has lived in Capac, died Monday evening at the University hospital at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Waters, during her residence here, was prominent in church, community and social life of Manistique. She was active in the Presbyterian church of which she was a member; was past worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star, had held offices in the Manistique Women's Club and the Parent Teacher Association. She had taught for several years in schools of the area. Her husband, Bert Waters, was associated with P. P. Stanness in the jewelry business here.

Surviving her are her husband, a son, Duane Waters, a student at the University of Michigan; two daughters, Mrs. Ross Brink, of Detroit and Mrs. Ray Billings, of Manistique.

Funeral services will be held at Capac Thursday afternoon.

Golden Star Lodge—Members of the Golden Star Lodge will meet Thursday evening, October 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Larson, Cedar street. All members are requested to attend.

Special Meeting—A special meeting of Ida Chapter No. 54, OES, will be held this evening at 8:15 for the purpose of initiation. A good attendance is desired.

Speaker—Dr. Orth Lane, missionary, will speak at the First Methodist church on Monday, October 10 at 8:15 p. m.

Bowling—There will be a special meeting for women of LaFollette's Ladies' Bowling league immediately following the meeting tonight of the Manistique Women's Bowling association which is to be held at 8 o'clock.

Church Conference—Mrs. Stanley Gardner of Detroit who is the Detroit Conference secretary of Christian social relations and local church activities, will be in Manistique on Thursday, Oct. 6, to conduct a one-day workshop on Christian Social Relations at the First Methodist church. It will be a sub-district workshop for local presidents and secretaries of C. S. R. and L. C. A. Mrs. Gardner is coming here from a similar workshop on an inter-state scale held this week in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Assisting her here will be Mrs. H. V. Eastburn of Sault Ste. Marie. The morning session will begin at 9:45 a. m. and continue until noon when the group will recess for lunch which will be served by members of the local W. S. C. S. The afternoon session will be highlighted by a panel discussion on human rights.

Steam Turbine Has CrackupPaper Mill Work Is Halted Temporarily

A serious breakdown of the steam turbine which drives the huge paper making machine at the Manistique Pulp & Paper company, Tuesday morning has brought activity at the mill to a standstill, according to R. G. Hentschell, plant manager.

The exact nature of the break, says Hentschell, has not, up to Tuesday evening been fully determined, but it is definitely known that some of the intricate mechanism has been hopelessly wrecked and its repair will mean a shut-down of the plant for an indefinite period.

The breakdown occurred about 8:30 in the morning and came without warning. Employees working near it first became aware of trouble by a clanging sound and the slap of whirling particles against the walls of the room. Three employees were slightly injured before the machine was brought to a standstill. Isadore Reno had a small bit of steel imbedded in his arm; his brother, Traceford Reno, had a small bit of steel in one of his ribs and a small particle hit William Belville in the foot.

The turbine was inspected and overhauled a couple months ago.

Second Peninsula Ferry Proposed At Traverse City

Traverse City, (AP)—Arguments for another state ferry service linking Upper and Lower Peninsulas by a new route were presented to a legislative committee here Monday.

Traverse City, Northport and Frankfort officials supported a proposal that would establish a ferry route from Northport to Manistique, or from Frankfort to Menominee.

State ferries now operate between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

The legislators were members of a six-man interim House-Senate committee headed by Rep. Bert Storey of Belding as chairman.

Storey said the committee would visit all four proposed terminal sites.

The new route would be in addition to existing Straits service.

Nahma

Nahma, Mich.—At a recent meeting the Nahma men's bowling league elected the following officers for the season: President, Homer Turk; secretary, Lew Brammer; treasurer, Ira Hanson.

The league bowling began on Monday, Oct. 3. The 80 per cent handicap which was used last year will be used again. Due to the large number of new bowlers the starting average for new bowlers will be 150. The league will be operated on the point system with each game valued at one point and the total pins at one point. Games are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights. A good number of outside matches have been arranged and more are anticipated.

There will be eight teams bowling this year. Teams and captains are as follows: Magnusson—Eddie Olson; Herring Chokers—Jimmy Moore; Billy Goats—Shirley Warner; Sleepy—Dale Hebert; Pinegrove—Roland Brammer; Fur Farmers—Lew Brammer; Garden Corners—Marty Tholen.

Open Bids On Paving JobsPublic Hearings On Monday, Oct. 10

Bids on the two proposed local paving projects were opened and scanned at a special meeting of the city commission Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Only one bid was received on the Thirteenth street project. This was from the Straits Construction company of St. Ignace which set a price of $13,707.60 on the four-block stretch of concrete.

This is slightly higher than estimates made by City Manager H. J. Henriksen.

On the one-block job on North Tenth, Superior to Delta, there were two bids. The Straits Construction company bid $3,417.90 while Carl Arntzen, Escanaba, bid $2,970.80. Those also are somewhat over the estimates.

Bids were placed on file pending final action following the public hearing on the projects next Monday evening, Oct. 10.

Frunick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Frunick of Munising were united in marriage here at the parsonage of the Mission Covenant church by Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom. Witnessing the ceremony were Dorothy McQuown and Mrs. C. V. S. Engstrom.

DeMenter-Stropich
Arlene Joyce DeMenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeMenter, 513 Montana avenue, and John S. Stropich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mirko Stropich, 1427 Stephenson avenue, Escanaba, were united in marriage in All Saints' Catholic church Saturday morning with the Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette celebrating the nuptial mass. Music of the mass was by the choir with a solo by Nancy Sabourin.

Baskets of cut flowers decorated the altars and baskets of flowers and streamers of yellow, green, blue and white were used in the home.

Attending the couple were Pauline Waeghe as maid of honor, Betty McKenzie, Nancy Cole and Ethel Stropich as bridesmaids and Frank Stropich as best man. Don Lewis and Carl Fassbender were ushers. Margaret Clark was the flower girl and Dale Kobasie the ring bearer.

The bride was attired in an ivory satin gown, fitted, lace trimmed with long train and she carried a colonial style bouquet of red and white roses. The attendants were attired in identical gowns in colors of blue, yellow, green and orchid and they carried colonial style bouquets.

A wedding breakfast and dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents and a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple will make their home in Milwaukee.

Delta Past Matrons
The Delta Past Matrons will meet Monday, October 10, at the Sherman hotel for a 6:30 dinner. Bridge will be played in the Ladies Room of the Masonic Temple following the dinner. Reservations must be made by 12 noon Friday, October 7. Call Mrs. Hazel Cowen, No. 9-4702.

Latter Day Saints
The women's department of the Reorganized Latter Day Saints church will meet at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Birmingham, 1323 Minnesota avenue.

Prayer and study hour will be held at the church this evening, beginning at 7:45.

Bridge League Play Will Begin Tonight
Season's play in the Men's Bridge league will begin tonight at the Yacht club. Competing will be teams captained by E. H. Huesener and Gale Wescott.

On the team captained by Huesener are E. A. D'Amour, Walter Erickson, Myron Goodman, George Mathison, E. C. Olson, Clarence Goodman, Dr. A. H. Miller, H. J. Miller, Henning Bjork, Hon. Glenn Jackson, Howard Sunblad, James T. Jones and Lewis Emps.

Forming Westcott's team are Gus Dehlin, S. R. Vonne, Tom Bolger, Hagie Quarstrom, Noble Swenson, Fred Siebert, Fred Hoover, O'Neil D'Amour, J. F. Richardson, Seymour Lewis, Claude Hawkins, Eldon Keil and Gordon Kelley.

Trenary
Mrs. George Harris, North Delta, left Tuesday for Wichita, Kansas, called by the critical illness of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Harris.

Demonstrate Fire FightingTraining Course To End Here Tonight

As a climax to the firemanship training course given here by Clifford W. Warner of Belmont as a joint project of the University of Michigan Extension Service and the Department of Vocational Education a fire fighting demonstration will be given tonight at 8 o'clock at Michigan avenue and Second street.

A large pit, 20 x 30 feet in size, is to be dug, filled with waste oil and set ablaze. Firemen, both regulars and volunteers will then demonstrate the use of high pressure fog and low pressure fog in extinguishing this type of difficult fire.

The public is invited to attend the demonstration.

46th World Series Underway

Hey! Pipe Casey Sporting Yankee Uniform In Series

New York, Oct. 5 (P)—World Series? Sure, Charles Dillon Stengel knows all about 'em—at least three.

He played in that many. He hit some home runs, too—was a big hero. He got a lot of big black headlines, just like the other day, when the Yankees won the pennant.

And when Casey's Yanks take the field against the Brooklyn Dodgers tomorrow in the vast Yankee stadium, how can he fail to remember 26 years ago?

Casey was a centerfielder then, just like Joe DiMaggio. He was a great comedian—one of John McGraw's Giants. And he could powder that apple pretty good.

Babe Ruth was there, too, 26 years ago. The big Babe who slapped the ball into the seats of the stadium—just opened that year—while the customers screamed.

The Giants were playing the Yankees in 1923, and the Harlem river was the man's land between the rival camps.

Casey came up to bat in the ninth inning of the first game, and the score was tied 4-4. Joe Bush, on the mound for the Yankees, got his signal from Wally Schang, and threw. Casey belted an inside-the-park home run. Rosy Ryan set the Yankees down in the last half of the ninth, and the Giants copped the opener, 6 to 4.

The next day Babe Ruth hit two homers and the Yanks evened it up, winning 4 to 2 over in the Polo Grounds.

The following day they returned to the stadium. For six innings Art Nehf of the Giants and Sad Sam Jones hooked up in a scoreless pitching duel.

In the seventh inning the mighty Casey came to bat, picked out one he liked and drilled it into the right field stands ala the Babe. That was all. The Giants won it 1 to 0, and it was the last game they won, as Ruth and Co. came back to win the series, 4 games to 2. But the Giant fans had a hero, Casey who hit .417 in the six games.

Casey Stengel will be trying to mastermind the Yankees to victory over the Bums from Brooklyn. On Friday, the Yanks move over to Brooklyn—Ebbets field. Casey has seen a lot of Ebbets field.

He came to Flatbush in 1912, and started playing baseball in the big time. He managed the Brooks in 1934, '35 and '36. Never won a pennant, never got his club higher than fifth place.

Casey helped land Brooklyn in the 1916 world series. The Boston Red Sox—yes, the same Red Sox his 1949 Yanks polished off in the last game Sunday for the American league crown—were the opponents of the Dodgers 33 years ago.

The Red Sox beat Brooklyn, four games to one, and Casey was the batting leader of the series. He hit .364.

So, it's back to Yankee stadium for Casey, and back to Ebbets field, again. But with the now grizzled, greying Casey sporting a Yankee uniform in this world series.

Bleacher Queue Is An All-Night Line

New York, Oct. 5 (P)—Hundreds of baseball fans huddled outside the Yankee Stadium early today awaiting the opening sale of 12,000 bleacher seats at 9 a. m. (EST) for the first game of the World Series.

The fans began to gather early yesterday afternoon. Shortly before 2 a. m. Police put up wooden horse barricades to keep them in regular formation and prevent line crashing.

Some of the early arrivals wrapped themselves in blankets during the wee morning hours and reclined on the pavement. Others played cards or listened to all-night disc jockeys on portable radios.

The owners of a nearby restaurant distributed 30 gallons of coffee among the fans, bringing cheers from the crowd. A number of hawkers already were at the stadium, selling refreshments and souvenirs.

Glick, Ciolek Will Handle MSC Eleven

East Lansing, Oct. 5 (P)—A senior and a sophomore will work in Coach Biggie Mann's own version of the double quarterback system for the Michigan State football team.

Plans call for veteran Gene Glick of Saginaw and Sophomore Bob Ciolek to alternate in the quarterbacking role.

Both are getting equal attention at the post in early practice sessions this week. And both are getting special plays to share some of the burdens of memorizing every play that might be called in the ballgame.

Glick has connected with 11 of 19 pass attempts for 316 yards and two touchdowns. Ciolek has completed four out of nine tries for 84 yards and a single score.

Ciolek had to start in the Michigan game without the benefit of college experience. The coaches called it "a tough spot for any sophomore" and declared that the proper way to break him in would be as an alternate for a more experienced man.

Now that Glick is back and has proven himself by connecting with seven out of eight throws against Marquette, they're much happier about the situation. Ciolek can now be brought up slowly without the pressing burden of responsibility.

Krall, Ohio State, Sets Early Pace In Big Ten Statistics

Chicago, Oct. 5 (P)—The one-man rampage of Jerry Krall, Ohio State senior halfback, against Indiana has given him a fast start in the Big Ten statistical race.

Aiming to surpass his 4.6 yard running average of last year, Krall gained 129 yards in the Buckeyes' 46-7 trouncing of Indiana for a 10.7 average. He completed four of five tosses for 30 yards and scored two touchdowns.

Noted as a dangerous runner, Krall also will be used more in the role of a passer this season. He tossed only three times during the entire 1948 campaign—but all three were completed for touchdowns.

Krall tops the league this week in total offense with 179 yards. Purdue's John Kerestes is ahead in rushing with 178, but has amassed that yardage in two league games. The Boilermaker fullback's average is 5.7.

Preceding years, 162,300; Illinois, 110,950; and Wisconsin, 101,842.

New York, Oct. 5 (P)—Preacher Roe, the angular Arkansas traveler, was the likely Brooklyn starter against Allie Reynolds of the Reynolds-Page corporation in the Dodger-Yankee world series opener at Yankee stadium today.

Switch to the lefthanded Roe from Don Newcombe, the 235-pound negro rookie, was indicated from Dodger sources although Manager Burt Shotton still held off definite word.

Fatherly Burt, a firm believer in the eight-hour sleep, said, "I don't want my boy staying up all night." He tried the same deal in the 1947 series with Ralph (The Blister) Branca but it didn't work. Roe is not the nervous type.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel confirmed his choice of "Old Wahoo" Reynolds. The Oklahoma Indian who opened so many key series in the club's gallant drive to the American league pennant. Down the stretch, every series was vital but Allie, with Fireman Joe Page as his shadow, drew the "big" assignments.

Mop-Up Help
Reynolds wound up with a 17-6 record as compared to 15-4 for the Preacher, but the Yankee right-hander threw only four complete games. In 31 starts, Reynolds needed mop-up help from Fireman Joe 20 times. Roe completed 13 of 27 starts.

Next to the debate about the Brook starter, the weather was the most-talked-about subject. The forecast called for a "few showers". Despite the threat, there was a line at the bleacher gate early yesterday afternoon.

This 46th world series will be watched by the largest number of fans in history because all games will be piped on the television cable to points as far west as St. Louis. All networks, including 51 stations will carry the TV and some 740 radio stations will air the reports of Red Barber and Mel Allen over the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Dodger Underdog
The Dodgers, 17 to 10 underdogs in man-to-man betting in this best-of-seven competition, will be handicapped by a groin injury to Carl Furillo, their .322-hitting right fielder. Furillo said yesterday at the final workout he couldn't hit or run. Still Shotton calmly announced Furillo as his starting right fielder with no alternate.

Furillo and Cliff Mares, Yankee alternate right fielder, have the strongest throwing arms of the series outfielders.

Knowing that Righthander Reynolds will start, Shotton has lined up a crew of three left-handed batters. Spider Jorgensen will be at third, Duke Snider in center and Gene Hermanski in left field. When a southpaw works, Shotton uses Eddie Miksis on third and Luis Olmo in left.

Platoon System?
Stengel juggled intricate combinations of players all season during the siege of 71 injuries that crippled every regular. Both he and Shotton are expected to continue in the series. The result could be a new record for total men used.

Most critics looked askance at the betting odds, figuring the series a toss up. Because of the American league victory record and the magic name of the Yankees, who dubbed themselves the "team of destiny," the edge probably belongs on that side, but no 10 to 1.

The batting averages give the edge to the Dodgers, .270 to .267. They also have the home run edge as well as the speed for stolen bases.

Although Branch Rickey's far-flung farm system is loaded with talent, the Yanks probably have more big league reserves on the bench than Brooklyn. There is nobody on the Dodger club to match George Stinnett, Bobby Brown, Charley Keller, Charley Silvera or Johnny Mize if pinch hitting help is needed.

And, oh yes, Brooklyn never has won a world series. The Yanks have copped 11 of 15.

BURT SHOTTON

Dodger Fans Kid Ailing Yankees

New York, Oct. 5 (P)—Baseball fans who lined up early today for the sale of bleacher seats at Yankee stadium got a laugh out of this:

A teenager, obviously a Brooklyn roofer, walked by. He had his right thumb in a thick bandage, had the length of his right arm bandaged and carried his left arm in a sling.

He carried a sign: "The Brooks will give 10 per cent of winning series share to Yank old age and invalid fund."

In addition he wore a rubber shoe heel attached to a placard which said: "Joe Dee's $100,000 heel."

The placards referred to the many injuries suffered by Yankee players and Joe DiMaggio's ailing heel which kept him out of the Yankee lineup for half of the season.

PREACHER ROE
Dodger Hurler

Ghindia Is Likely U-M Quarter Choice

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 5 (P)—A dark-haired kid who watched the last Michigan-Army game from the bench will probably direct Michigan's national champs against the Cadets here Saturday.

Johnny Ghindia, a stocky veteran from Ecorse, Mich., a third-stringer until Coach Bennie Oosterbaan gave him the team Saturday against Stanford, sat on the bench in 1946 as the great Army team edged Michigan 20-13.

The Michigan coach won't talk "starters" at the moment, but Ghindia is most likely to take the brunt of the quarterback work in view of his masterful job against Stanford.

In 1946, Ghindia watched Michigan embryo club give the famed Cadets led by the Blanchard-Davis combine quite a tussle before succumbing.

Saturday, the one-time junior varsity stalwart from Ecorse, will be leading Michigan's tough veterans at the peak of a 25-game winning streak, a club rated best in the nation last year.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS

S P O R T S

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Every time we go home for lunch, our wife says: "Look out, children, here comes Swami! Maybe if you're real nice, he'll tell your fortune today instead of biting you."

It all started with this crystal ball business, this calling the scores on games before they are even played. It gets under your skin, like woodticks. It gets in your hair—like dandruff. It gets in your eyes—like smoke rings. And pretty soon you find that crystal ball following you up the street and haunting you as you duck furtively in doorways.

People start asking you: "How about this—how's about that?" Fellow came up to me after hitting that Escanaba-Ironwood game right on the head (7-6) and said: "Hey, you called that one exactly right!" We said: "I know it. I told Jim Rouman I don't know why they even played the game."

But we found out later it's just as well they keep on playing. We called Escanaba over Norway (Norway won) and Menominee over Escanaba (Escanaba won).

After those two experiences, we regularly bump into one rabid Eskymo fan who says: "How are the Eskymos going to make out this week?" I tell him. He says: "Thanks, thanks for the tip. Now I know. I'm going to bet the other way."

And then there's the fellow who said his wife went right up in the air the other night when she read that we had called St. Joseph's over Bark River.

"Who does he think he is, that guy?" What's this calling the score before the game is even played. That fellow should either go to a psychiatrist or have his head examined—one or the other.

"And then, the fellow tells me, 'I took her to the game and she kept yelling all night for Bark River to beat St. Joe. I'll show him, she says to me.' (Luckily for us that night, St. Joe won)

And in case you haven't noticed, we're starting to get letters from Gladstone again. With hockey season still two months away, somebody is jumping the gun. Our supply of brickbats from Gladstone arrived early this season. Ordinarily, we don't get knicked from Gladstone-way until the frost has been on and off the pumpkin and the fairgrounds exhibition building floor is covered with ice.

It all started with that crystal ball.

How would you like to have your youngsters start calling you Swami instead of Daddy?

Cuff notes: The record shows we hit right on Marinette over Eau Claire, Iron River over Kingsford, Bessemer over Calumet, St. Joe over Bark River, Wakefield over Crystal Falls, Newberry over Manistique, Ishpeming over Negaunee, Ontonagon over Houghton, Hancock over Baraga and we called that tie between Norway and Iron Mountain . . . Buck Erickson sent us a furlined cuspidor for that achievement.

Our misses, all of which were upsets with the possible exception of Gladstone's 12-7 win over Marquette, were Hurley over Ironwood, Gladstone over Marquette, Escanaba over Menominee and Stephenson scored two touchdowns in the last five minutes of play to beat Munising, 14-6 . . . That makes it 10 right, 4 wrong for the week. A total for the season of 33 right and 11 wrong and a batting average of .750.

We have evidence that someone has been tampering with our crystal ball . . . It has been moved from the Escanaba Daily Press vault to the strong arms vault at the National Guard Armory.

Joe Berrault, Ishpeming's national champion ski jumper, has the same middle name as Joe DiMaggio—Paul . . . So do DiMaggio's brothers, Vince and Dom, incidentally . . . Dizzy Trout again will lead a team of big league baseball stars into the U. P. this fall . . . They're due to play South Range in the Copper Country Oct. 12 . . . Yoo-hoo, C. C. Watson at Ishpeming . . . Bob Triest is wondering about that U. P. softball trophy for his Fleetwood Inn team of Powers . . . They won Class B in Ishpeming but haven't received a trophy as yet.

Now it develops that what the Governor of South Carolina really said to the Governor of North Carolina is: "You should put a governor on Choo Choo Justice!"

(Signed) Swami.

UPPER PENINSULA QUARTET

ski, Menominee; Fullback Frank Kopenski, Iron River; Center John Backman, Ramsay, and Tackle Joe (The Angel) Masnaghetti, Bessemer. All are sophomores at Marquette. Under Coach Murray's current two-plateon system on the Milwaukee Hilltop, the four peninsulans are rated as first

Highland Officers Relected; Grover Lewis New Director

Hazen Hengesh, Mert Jensen and Bud Stacie were reelected president, vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, at the annual stockholders meeting of the Highland Golf club last night. This will be their sixth consecutive term. Grover Lewis was named director to succeed Ed Martenson. Hengesh and Stacie were reelected to directorships.

Local Hockey Club Meeting At 8 Tonight

An important organization meeting of the Escanaba Hawks Hockey club, which made a strong finish in the Upper Peninsula Amateur Hockey league last season, will be held in the Delta Furniture office, Stephenson avenue, at 8 o'clock tonight.

All officers, members, players and prospective players are asked to attend this meeting.

Heading the agenda are discussion of the type of insurance to be purchased this season to cover all players and discussion of a constitution and by-laws to cover the operation of the hockey club.

Michigan Tech Goes To Central Saturday

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 4—Michigan Tech's battered grid squad took a breather last weekend after a full week of hard practice.

On October 8 the Huskies will tangle with the highly touted Chippewas from Central State Teachers College at Mt. Pleasant.

Smarting from two one-sided defeats in two starts this season, the Engineers during the practice sessions this week have begun to show some of the drive that carried them through an untied, undefeated season last year. Coach Bovard and his staff have thrown all positions open and have issued the ultimatum that on next Saturday the eleven best men will start the game, regardless of previous experience.

The Huskies will go into the Central State game underdogs by a wide margin. The Chippewas last week swamped the Ferris Institute gridgers by a score of 33-7. When Michigan Tech and Central State met in 1932, their only previous game, the Teachers beat the Huskies 46-0.

The U. S. population increased 28 per cent between 1924 and 1949.

President May Ask Congress To Double Atom Bomb Output

Nashville, Tennessee, (AP)— President Truman will ask Congress to double the nation's atom bomb production program as an answer to Russia's possession of that weapon, the Nashville Tennessean reported Tuesday.

Mr. Truman, at the request of the Atomic Energy commission will ask for emergency funds before Congress adjourns, the paper said in a copyrighted Washington dispatch.

The AEC, the article said, wants the President to ask Congress to double its 1950 appropriation of $378,000,000 and to okay $300,000,000 to $600,000,000 for construction during the present fiscal year.

(Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said last week in Washington that appropriations for the nation's atomic weapon program allowed in advance for Russian developments.

Council Will Meet Thursday

Extension Of Power Line Considered

The regular meeting of the Escanaba city council will be held Thursday evening at the council chambers in the city hall at 7:30 o'clock.

The agenda for the meeting follows:

Consideration of paying city taxes on parking lots.

Petition for sanitary sewer in 2400 block Ludington street.

Presentation of certificate to George Grenholm for completing personnel administration course.

Consideration of extending electric line to Portage Point development.

Further hearings on discontinuance of C&NW train to Iron River.

Check over present insurance on city buildings.

Recommendation on painting the city water tower.

Arms Pool Will Bolster Defense Of Dozen Nations

ative and chairman, was on the program for an informal welcome address before doors were closed for the initial working session.

As a first order of business, the defense committee had the creation of (1) A military committee composed of chiefs of staff, (2) A three-nation standing group with the United States, Britain and France represented, (3) A supply and production board to supervise the distribution and manufacture of arms and (4) Five regional planning groups.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the American joint chiefs of staff, is the U. S. representative on both the professional military committee and the three-nation standing group. The latter is in the nature of an executive agency for the whole body to bolster the safeguards of western Europe and the North Atlantic area.

Much of the detailed work will be left to the regional groups, officials said.

Must Integrate Defenses

The defense committee also is expected to discuss the terms of the agreements each of the other countries must decide on to receive arms and military equipment from the United States.

Before arms are shipped, these agreements must be signed and President Truman must make a formal finding that the Atlantic Pact countries have "integrated" their defenses, at least in outline.

Johnson was host at a dinner last night at the Pentagon to 26 visiting and American military men.

The two-day session of the defense committee is to be followed immediately by the first work of the military committee, composed of the chiefs of staff or their representatives.

Arizona Airmen All Set To Beat Endurance Record

Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 5 (AP)—Two Arizona fliers expect to better the world endurance flight record tonight.

Bob Woodhouse and Woody Jongeward of Yuma, Ariz., will pass the old mark of 1,008 hours at 9:15 p. m. (EST), barring any last minute difficulties. They are flying a light single engine plane. Although tired and suffering from leg cramps, they say they will stay in the air for another week if possible and come down on Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

By that time they will have been in the air seven continuous weeks, working in four hour shifts.

They refuel and receive food from an automobile speeding down the airport runway.

The 1,008 hour record was set last spring by Bill Barris and Dick Riedel of Fullerton, Calif.

Brake Forced To Go Against Ziegler In Sand Fill Payment

Lansing, Oct. 5 (AP)—Like it or not, Republican State Treasurer D. Hale Brake Tuesday had to side against his party fellow, Charles M. Ziegler in the feud with the Democratic attorney general.

Brake notified the state administrative board that he was refusing to honor a $24,907 state check for sand acquired by the highway department near Mt. Clemens. This, Brake said, is because attorney general Stephen J. Roth has ruled the transaction illegal.

Ziegler needed the Democrats a little by reporting that although State Controller Robert F. Steadman had first challenged the sand contract and Roth had ruled against it, in the end Steadman's department had approved payment of it.

But Brake said he would be personally responsible for the $24,907 if he paid it contrary to an attorney general's opinion and that he wouldn't take that risk.

PUPILS FALL ASLEEP

Cadillac, Mich., Oct. 5 (AP)—The Parent-Teacher association has asked city officials to enforce a 9:15 p. m. curfew for children under 17. The reason: School teachers complain their pupils are falling asleep in the classrooms.

Agriculture Director Figy Won't Be Fired

Lansing (AP)—There is every indication that Charles Figy, long rumored on the skids, will remain as state agriculture director for some months.

At a reorganization meeting of the commission Monday at which two new Democratic commissioners took their seats, the question was brought up.

W. R. Kirk of Fairgrove, a Republican, who was elected the new chairman, said privately, "this is no time to consider making a change in the directorship. We have two new commissioners to break in and there is work to be done in the lower levels of the department."

House Votes Expansion Of Age Benefits

New Plan Will Add 11,000,000 Workers

By FRANCIS M. Le MAY
Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Speaker Rayburn predicted today the House will pass overwhelmingly, possibly within a few hours, legislation putting 11,000,000 more workers under old age insurance. The newcomers would include the banker, the baker, grocers, household servants and public employees.

Democratic leaders called the House to meet two hours earlier than usual, to run the measure through. The Senate is not expected to act until January at the earliest.

The bill, while expanding coverage, would boost old age and survivors benefits by 70 to 80 percent, create new disability insurance, and increase payroll taxes to finance the broadened program.

It might mean the institution of a stamp book plan for 750,000 servants and their housewife employers, to pay the security taxes.

Farmers Not Included

President Truman asked Congress to put 20,000,000 more persons under old age insurance. But the bill does not include millions of farm operators and farm hands. Some of its sponsors said farmers did not appear especially anxious to get in.

The legislation won its first major test yesterday. The House, over Republican shouts of "gag rule," voted 199 to 135 to bar any amendments. Then, although procedures allow four days of debate, a bi-partisan drive developed—with Congress adjournment in the air—for a final vote on the bill late today.

The Republicans offered a substitute bill, but some top party members let it be known they have little if any hope that it will pass.

Rep. Kean (R-NJ) author of the bill, said it would put 1,300,000 more persons under Social Security than the administration-sponsored measure, and ultimately would cost $1,250,000,000 a year less.

It resembles the administration measure, but proposes a slower boost in taxes and would eliminate the proposed new insurance for workers who become totally and permanently disabled. Kean said the public assistance program can care for the disabled at lower cost.

Union Accepts New Ford Deal

Pensions Approved; Chrysler Next

Detroit, Oct. 5 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers' national Ford council was reported ready to vote acceptance today of the pension plan won by the union from the Ford Motor Co. last week. Approval appeared a certainty despite some rumblings from left-wing unionists.

The council is made up of 100 delegates representing Ford's 112,000 production workers in 48 plants. The delegates are key men in various locals. They were expected to recommend that the rank and file union membership ratify the new 30-month contract with Ford. The locals will hold ratification votes later.

All Ford workers who have been with the company 30 years would be assured pensions of $100 a month under the contract. Walter Reuther, UAW president, spent more than two hours yesterday outlining the contract to the members of the council.

Reuther plans to sit down at the bargaining table today with representatives of Chrysler Corporation.

"We are going back into the negotiations with Chrysler Corporation to get a pension program there, too," Reuther declared. Chrysler has 100,000 employees.

East And West In Reich Tug-of-War

many into the Bonn government, it and when the Russian military grip is relaxed.

Economically the Soviet and the western zones not only complement each other but are essential to each other. The west has the greater portion of the industries, while the east is rich agriculturally.

The west, of course, is much larger, having an area of some 95,000 square miles and a population of about 45,000,000. The Soviet zone contains 46,000 square miles and has a population of 17,000,000.

However, the eastern zone has a tremendous drawing card—Berlin, former proud capital of the Reich, one of the world's great cities and hub of European transportation. The fact that Berlin is now divided into four zones which are occupied by Russia, Britain, France and America won't preclude the projected eastern German government from claiming it as the capital.

Balloon Lands Near Escanaba?

Finder Is Asked To Notify Laboratory

A stratosphere balloon, released from the University airport at Minneapolis at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday, is believed to have landed in the vicinity of Escanaba.

Roy Dungan, observer-photographer of the General Mills Aeronautical Laboratories, Minneapolis, and Ray Stiles, pilot, arrived at the Escanaba airport in their Piper Clipper this morning on an aerial search for the balloon. Unable to find it, they returned to Minneapolis this afternoon. Anyone locating the balloon and its scientific instruments is asked to telephone the General Mills laboratories in Minneapolis, Telephone number Geneva 0379. A reward is offered.

The balloon, which is pear-shaped, is 120 feet in height and 75 feet in diameter. It is constructed of a plastic material, known as polyethylene. The balloon was last seen flying over Rhinelander, Wis., at dusk last evening.

The Minneapolis laboratories has a contract with the U. S. Navy to fly the balloons in cosmic ray research work. The balloons, which are released about twice per week, often attain an altitude of 100,000 feet.

occupy all of the available floor space in that building.

Employment Increase

The Harnischfeger company has not yet publicly revealed its reasons for seeking additional space in the city-owned Steele-Wallace property, but it is reported unofficially that the company plans to produce D-C welding units at Escanaba as well as AC units.

In addition to the production of AC welders, the Harnischfeger company also manufactures truck cabs at the city building. Several months ago the company constructed a sizable addition to that building for this purpose.

The company has indicated that its expansion program in Escanaba will mean a substantial increase in the number of employees.

Blue Cross Books Seized By FBI

Detroit, Oct. 5 (AP)—The FBI has seized records of the Michigan Medical Service, operator of the Blue Cross health insurance plan, it was revealed today.

Agents are investigating charges of anti-trust law violations.

The Wayne county medical society also has been ordered to make its records available.

Only comment from the Detroit FBI office was that an "active investigation" was under way.

Jay Ketchum, executive vice president of the medical service, said records were turned over without objection.

"There is nothing for them to hang their hat on in an anti-trust action," Ketchum said. "We may be tough competition for other medical insurance plans but we do not interfere with them. All our records are public anyway."

Senate Committee Rejects Olds For Power Commission

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee today spurned an appeal from President Truman and voted 10-2 against a third term for Leland Olds on the Federal Power Commission.

The committee's adverse report on the president's nomination of Olds for another term now goes to the Senate for action.

Mr. Truman joined in the fight yesterday with letters to Vice President Barkley and Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) of the Commerce Committee saying that "powerful corporations" wanted to block Senate approval of the nomination.

Youth To Catch Wild Mice For Cancer Research

New York (SS)—A wild mouse hunt, to aid the fight against cancer, will soon be on in cities and villages all over the nation. The mouse hunters will be the quarter of a million high school boys and girls who are members of Science Clubs of America, sponsored by this newspaper's Science Service.

When they have found the mice, the high school students will breed and study them in cooperative research with the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Bar Harbor, Me., world famous center of cancer study and mouse breeding for scientific research.

The wild mouse research project will contribute directly and importantly to the discovery of new scientific facts about cancer. Dr. Clarence C. Little, Jackson Laboratory director, declared here today.

The project is being organized by Dr. Little, Watson Davis, director of Science Service, and Dr. Elizabeth Russell, who is in charge of Jackson Laboratory's inbred strains of mice that are the backbone of scientific and medical research throughout the country.
